

Quick Step-by-Step Guide for IFTF International ReMix Fur Design Competition

1. Designs/sketches with all necessary forms and documentation are submitted by students no later than Thursday September 13, 2012.
2. A U.S. panel of judges reviews all entries/sketches and selects 1 finalist for each of the 3 categories:
  - International Design Category (3 -U.S. finalists selected)
  - PIMP My Coat Category ( 1- U.S. finalist chosen)
  - Origin Assured Category ( 1 -U.S. finalist chosen)
3. U. S. finalists, results are released and the U.S. finalists are contacted individually by October 12th, 2012.
4. FICA puts together a professional design team for U.S. finalist to work with. The team consists of a lead designer/brand and an auction house that will donate the skins to produce the winning garment design.
5. Once U.S. finalists are assigned their design team, finalist will collaborate with the team to decipher the quantity of skins that will be needed to produce the garment, and any additional resources you will need (i.e. dying of garment).
6. Once garment is produced, U.S. finalist must produce high resolution images of the finished garment on a model. All photos must be submitted by Thursday December 13th, 2012 for judging by the international committee.
7. If chosen as an international finalist, garments must be ready for shipping to MiFur in Milan Italy by Friday February 15th, 2013. There is a strong possibility that all U.S. finalist will have their garments shipped to Milan for inclusion in the international ReMix Runway show. (Decisions surrounding this portion will be made in January 2013)
